Published by Alicia Stella on Apr-06-2015

Create excitement at your next event or party with these new explosively fun devices! With a countdown from ten, optional particle effects, and sounds everyone will know when they're about to splode! Available in a sculpted bomb shape or a mesh dynamite shape. Each are only 3 prims/land impact.

These objects will give a random amount of Lindens to multiple random avatars at a timer interval set by the owner or staff member.

Can be set for Group Members Only to win or allow anyone.

Set a range, parcel, or entire sim that is allowed to receive random money.

A maximum amount of Lindens to give away each session can be set. Device will turn off when that limit is reached.

Optionally, avatars can pay money into the object. That money can be added to the session limit. The owner can set it so donated funds all go to session limit, a percentage goes to session limit, or all go to the owner instead. Payment is not required to win, and will not affect an avatar's chances of winning.
