
In-World Store Has Moved!

Alicia Stella Design's main store has moved to a new location! Our old region is going offline this week after 11 years. ASD Studios Hollywood was a fun venture, and while I have enjoyed the freedom of being able to build theme park rides and city streets, I no longer have a reason to keep the land going after our financial partners have moved their shops elsewhere.

You will still be able to find all of my products, as well as the Holiday Market and Scripts Store, at our new store location:

Please update your landmarks accordingly, and come check out the new location! Thanks to everyone that has been a customer at our old shop and will be at our new one. We love you all so very much!
